

To get you started when your InflammDry MMP-9 Test and/or QuickVue Adenoviral conjunctivitis Test arrives, Quidel Eye Health offers training options to best fit your practice needs.

You'll be amazed just how easy InflammDry MMP-9 Test and/or QuickVue Adenoviral Conjunctivitis Test are to use!

Quidel promotes and supports clinical excellence by offering customers evidence-based programs and services designed to ensure successful product application. Our goal is to create a culture of safety for patients and healthcare providers that promotes best practices, optimizes patient outcomes, and enhances cost effectiveness.

When you choose Quidel's products and solutions you gain access to an experienced team of ophthalmic professionals with advanced clinical skill sets, knowledge, and product expertise. These professionals partner with you to provide the services and resources you need to ensure successful adoption of product and process.

Please contact your local Area Business Manager or CAST@quidel.com to schedule your In-Person or Remote Training or if you have any training questions.

QUIDEL[®]
EYE HEALTH

Product Training

800.874.1517 | 858.552.1100 | quideleyehealth.com

Live In-Person Training

When you purchase the New Customer Special, one of our skilled Area Business Managers (ABM) will come to your practice to train you and your staff.

With In-person training you can expect:

- Personal, live, interactive training for you and your team
- A friendly, patient ABM ready to help you start testing right away
- In-service at breakfast before clinic or during the lunch break
- A PowerPoint presentation about the disease state and product
- Wet lab where each technician will collect a sample, run a test, and interpret the results
- Compliance Guidelines review
- Shadowing
- Certificate of Completion

Remote Training

One of our skilled Area Business Managers (ABM) will virtually walk with you every step of the way to train you and your staff.

With Remote training you can expect:

- Personal, live, interactive remote training just for you and your team
- A friendly, patient ABM ready to help you start testing right away
- Flexibility to set up multiple remote training sessions to ensure all users have access to training
- Convenience to attend the remote training from multiple locations – all users at all locations can attend remote training together
- A knowledgeable Quidel Area Business Manager to answer all your questions
- High Definition video quality so you don't miss a thing
- Certificate of Completion

All you need to take advantage of Quidel's Eye Health convenient, remote training is a computer with an internet connection and a phone.

Online Portal

Quidel is committed to advancing knowledge and improving care by providing education on clinical solutions, product training courses, and professional continuing education programs. The Quidel Eye Health Online Training Portal offers self-paced learning for healthcare professionals.

Learning is just a click away with courses designed to meet all your needs including:

- Objectives
- Content
- Resource Materials
- Post-Test
- Program Evaluation
- Printable Certificate of Completion

View our course catalog at quideleyehealth.com/training for a list of available programs and course access codes to start learning today.

Don't see the course you are looking for, have clinical product application questions, need onsite product training, or want to discuss your learning needs and options for managing learners within your own learning management system, email CAST@quidel.com to contact the Clinical Experts at Quidel.